

I would like to comment about the case of Indiana's Telephone Privacy law. I think the FCC should live the states to decided their own laws. My time at home is much; I mean much quiter. For some one that starts work at 2:30 a.m.; Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law works for me. I use to revceive 25 calls a day from telemarkerts. They even call past 9:30 p.m. ever night; the telemarkets even will call on Sunday. I could not get a sleep because of them. It was getting to the point of shutting off my phone and answer machine. Since Indiana pass this Privacy Law; I receive 0 calls from telmarkerts. Now I can sleep at any night. Please, do not take away our Privacy Law. Thank you every much.
